"What do our clients like most about Post-Game? Simple. It saves them money. A lot of money"

— Jim Neary - President End-Game Strategy

Say goodbye to "pay and chase". Post-Game identifies overpayments before they happen.

Overpayments cost the insurance industry billions every year. The losses begin when the payment is issued and then continue to build through the recovery phase. Even the smallest error can end up costing your company big.

That's why we developed Post-Game, our newest advanced claim auditing application yet. What makes Post-Game unique is it's ability to identify overpayments before they are paid.

What makes Post-Game even more valuable is it's flexibility.

To insure inconsistencies don't become chronic problems, we'll customize Post-Game's advanced capabilities to meet your needs.

Sound complicated? It's not. Post-Game is easy to use. We provide all the training and support necessary to assure you are under complete control from the very beginning.

Once you say hello to Post-Game, our latest, most powerful application yet you can say goodbye to "pay and chase" for good.

" WHY MAKE MISTAKES AND THEN PAY EVEN MORE TO FIX THEM? POST-GAME SPOTS THE PROBLEM BEFORE WE CUT THE CHECK, SAVING US MILLIONS EVERY YEAR..."

End-Game Strategy will customize Post-Game to meet your specific needs. It is a web based solution with nothing for you to install. We provide all training services, technical support and all the resources of our experienced team.

25 years of experience went into making Post-Game web our most advanced application yet.

There is one constant in the business of claim recovery and that is it's always changing. What's making headlines today will be old news tomorrow.

With over 25 years of health care industry experience End-Game Strategy has proven the value experience brings to our clients. We understand the problems you face and we can provide you with the right solution.

As our reputation has grown, so has our product lineup. In 2002 we launched Post-Game, a data mining application that uses exclusive technology developed by our team to identify overpayments.

We're proud to say Post-Game continues to reward some of the largest health payors in the business.

Our latest advanced data mining tool Post-Game Web APP was developed using everything we have learned about claims processing.

" END-GAME STRATEGY GET'S IT. THEY KNOW THE BUSINESS AND ARE AGILE ENOUGH TO REACT QUICKLY TO CHANGE..."
